

Of Double Service

Intelligent selection of becoming material for your clothes, combined with the very best construction of the garment, makes for the "consumption" devotedly to be wished among well-dressed men. This satisfaction cannot be had except through the tailoring channel. Of course you can purchase a suit of clothes from stock, but are you really getting what you want? The man who knows can tell you. It costs no more to get the double service. Suppose you try it here.

MAN IS WALKING JEWELRY STORE

H. B. Barton Held Pending Investigation—Comes From Clovis.

Detectives arrested a man giving his name as Harry B. Barton, Tuesday afternoon, on suspicion. He was found by Detective Stensel trying to pawn several articles of jewelry, it is stated. When searched at the police station, he had quite an assortment of jewelry, including two necklaces, a valuable brooch and several rings. He also had a pawn ticket made out to H. B. Claggett, which calls for a valuable set of architect's tools. He said he found the ticket.

Barton claims that he came here recently from Clovis, N. M., and that previous to that time he had been working at Flagstaff, Ariz. He gives San Antonio as his home. He will be held pending further investigation.

FELIX BARCENAS IS OUT AS MAYOR OF JUAREZ

Felix Barcenas no longer is jefe politico of Ciudad Juarez. His resignation has been accepted by governor Sanchez of Chihuahua.

For many months Mr. Barcenas has been absent from Juarez, attending to private interests in the City of Mexico. Francisco Portillo, former jefe of Juarez, has been acting in his stead. Mr. Portillo's permanent appointment is expected.

Improvements now going on in the border Mexican city are being superintended by Mr. Portillo, whose ability in city building has been demonstrated.

FT WORTH NEGRO FALLS TEN FEET, LIGHTS ON HEAD, THEN DIES

Fort Worth, Texas, July 5.—Falling only ten feet from a scaffold where he was working this morning as a laborer on a building on South Main street here, and picked up unconscious but without a drop of blood visible, or even a contusion of the skin, Henry Saunders, a negro, 50 years old, died two hours later in a hospital. The negro's head struck the concrete pavement and caused death, which is given as concussion of the brain.

DALLAS CENSUS DIRECTOR DIES AFTER OPERATION

Dallas, Texas, July 5.—John F. Worley, who was the census director of this district, died in a hospital here this morning following a small operation by surgeons for the removal of a tumor from his scalp. He had survived after the knife was used, but while talking, suddenly expired. He was about 50 years of age and well known here.

MORMON COLONISTS THRESH WHEAT CROP

Yield Better at Morelos Than Expected; Villa Fruit Prospects Good; Personal and General News.

Colonias Dublan, Mex., July 6.—Dublan threshing machines have been taken to the Galeana country to thresh for the natives. Threshing is over in Colonia Morelos and the yield is better than was expected. In Colonia Diaz, wheat is selling at the threshing for $6 per hectoliter. There are good prospects for fruit in El Villa.

P. K. Lemmon of Colonia Diaz is threatened with blood poisoning as a result of a small scratch on his hand.

Born to Mrs. Lillie Sanders, a boy; to Mrs. James Rowley, a boy.

The primary workers of Colonia Diaz are preparing to hold a fair in September. Bert and Effie Redd are in Arizona visiting their sister.

Mrs. A. G. Fahlgren of 210 Myrtle avenue, departed this morning for California to visit friends and relatives.

ONE OF JAPAN'S FAIREST DAUGHTERS

New York, July 6.—One of Tokyo's fairest women, according to the description of her husband, is Mrs. T. Ahahoshi, who arrived in New York on board the Lusitania, of the Cunard line. She comes here as a bride, for Mr. and Mrs. Ahahoshi are on a wedding trip around the world. Mrs. Ahahoshi's beauty was though he has an independent fortune, a subject of general comment among passengers on board the steamship.

Mr. Ahahoshi is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, and although extensive mercantile interests in Japan, is continuing a study of law, which he took up while still in college.

The Fisherman and the Preacher

By WALT MASON

Once a fisherman was dying in his humble, lowly cot, and the pastor sat beside him saying things that hit the spot, so that all his futile terrors left the dying sinner's heart, and he said: "The journey's lonely, but I'm ready for the start. There is just one little matter that is fretting me," he sighed, "and perhaps I'd better tell it ere I cross the Great Divide. I have got a string of stories that I've told from day to day; stories of the fish I've captured, and the ones that got away, and I fear that when I tell them they are apt to stretch a mile; and I wonder when I'm waited to that land that's free from guile, if they'll let me tell my stories if I try to tell them straight, or will angels lose their tempers then, and chase me through the gate?" Then the pastor sat and pondered, for the question vexed him sore; never such a weird conundrum had been sprung on him before. Yet the courage of conviction moved him soon to a reply, and he wished to fill the fisher with fair visions of the sky; "you can doubtless tell fish stories," said the clergyman, aloud, "but I'd stretch them very little if old Jonah's in the crowd."
